Sounds good. The PRP group should be able to give us direction on whom to identify as the primary contact.

I plan on reviewing the AOC tomorrow and then, after discussing it with Tanya, contacting Ricci.

My suggestion is to contact someone with the PRP group, and ask them who the point of contact for ARCARIS is. I believe ARCARDIS is the firm identified in the AOC/SOW, so we should maintain them as our point of contact.

Juan – thoughts?

Sounds like John is now a consultant to ARCADIS. How does this convert to day to day activities? Generally EPA communicate with the Groups Contractor, in this case ARCADIS and not directly to the Contractor's consultants. Should I continue to copy John on email? This would not be typically be the case.

Arcadis is still the Group's contractor. While John no longer works for Arcadis, he will continue working with Arcadis to move the project forward. We do not anticipate this development adversely affecting the current schedule. We, nevertheless, wanted the Agency to be aware of this development, mainly so that you had his correct contact information on file.

If you would like to discuss further, feel free to give me a call. Regards. Rich

Richard –

Please give us an update on John Persico. Does the Group have a new contractor?

Thanks,

Juan
